SEAT IN HOUSE BEATS LOCOMOTIVE CAB

Socred Caucus Readies For Tuesday Opening

BY TOM GOULD

Friday the 13th jinx didn't trouble Premier Bennett today as he and members of the Cabinet trooped gaily down a corridor in the Legislative Buildings to attend a pre-session party caucus.

"Friday the 13th doesn't bother us," said the premier. "Every day is a good day in British Columbia."

The government members room was bedlam this morning, as Socred MLAs shook hands, and slapped backs, welcoming each other back to the legislative grind.

CCF and Liberal MLAs are not expected to make an appearance until Monday.

The cabinet held a short meeting today, but broke up shortly after 10 a.m. to walk down the long hall to caucus.

Don Robinson, who won the Lillooet seat in the September 12 by-election, stood at the door, and shook hands with each cabinet minister in turn.

JUMBO BUDGET
As soon as the door closed, an attendant took up station outside. While inside, Premier Bennett was giving his back-benchers a look at the government's legislative program—one featuring the largest budget, and the largest road-building program in the history of B.C.

MUCH POLISHING
Workmen are putting the finishing touches to the chamber for next Tuesday's pomp and ceremony. A new system of microphones is being installed, with wires strung across the chamber in five banks.

Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross will read the Speech from the Throne to open the House.

The government feels its budget will highlight the session.

But milk, Sunday sport, and natural resources legislation is expected to cause most of the fireworks.

Premier Bennett has strongly indicated there will be no tax cuts, and with the increasing prosperity of the province, the government will have more millions on hand for opening up the back corners of B.C.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O God, we lift up to thee today for thy blessings all good husbands and wives who are bound together by numerous ties of love stronger than laws of marriage. May each couple continue to find life's deepest satisfaction in unselfish service and devotion to each other and the members of their family. May their children rise up and call them blessed, and their neighbors and their nation put their trust in them; in Christ's name. Amen.

U.S. EARTH SATELLITE LAUNCHING IN FLORIDA

WASHINGTON (UP)—The navy and air force announced today that Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa, Fla., will be the launching site for the United States first earth satellite.

The United States, now in a race with Russia to launch the first globe-circling satellite, hopes to get its "bird" into the outer space before Sept. 30, 1957.

Suspect Grilled In Ontario Death

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Free Press says Winnipeg detectives, acting on an anonymous tip to the newspaper, today took a man out of a downtown beer parlor for questioning into the death of five-year-old Susan Cadieux of London, Ont., who died from exposure after being assaulted.

The man was picked up after an informant told The Free Press a nervous Ontario man, answering the general description of the man being sought, was drinking alone in the parlor, the paper said. Police were informed immediately.

The newspaper says detectives spoke to the man briefly and then took him to central police station for closer questioning.

Susan was last seen alive Friday night by her two brothers while talking to a stranger. Her body was found Saturday in a lumber yard.

MONTREAL (BUP)—A 27-year-old Montrealer described by police as a crackpot today confessed and then denied that he was responsible for the death of five-year-old Susan Cadieux, whose ravished body was found frozen at London, Ont., on Saturday.

Marcel still is in custody, on a charge of loitering.

JOHN DIEFENBAKER

Diefenbaker Dares St. Laurent to Call Prairie By-Election

OTTAWA (CP)—John Diefenbaker today challenged Prime Minister St. Laurent to arrange a by-election on the Prairies to learn western farmers' true feelings about government-guaranteed bank loans on farm-stored grain.

The Progressive Conservative member for Prince Albert, chief agriculture spokesman for his party, dared Mr. St. Laurent to appoint a western Liberal to the Senate and then call a by-election to fill the vacated Commons seat.

"The 265-seat Commons now has no vacancies. There'll be an answer," he said.

He made the challenge in the Commons Throne speech debate while criticising the government's overall agricultural policies as "a mess."

Mr. Diefenbaker said the prime minister returned from a visit to Alberta and Saskatchewan last summer with the statement that there appeared to be few persons on the Prairies in need of assistance.

Mr. St. Laurent should arrange for a prairie by-election if he "really wants to find out what the people of western Canada think of the cavalier treatment" they are getting under the grain loan plan.

Under the program, announced last fall, the government guarantees bank loans up to $1,500 at 5 per cent interest on stored grain.

That would help clear out the otherwise unsaleable grain now helping to glut western elevators and keep new crops on the farms.

He also urged action to make more boxcars available to move western grain. Storage space for 100,000,000 bushels was not being used because there were not enough boxcars to move the grain into it.

Mr. Diefenbaker suggested government-guaranteed bank loans to eastern Canadian farmers for purchase of western feed grain might help relieve the shortage of storage space on the Prairies.

Wheatmen Back Trade With Reds

CALGARY (CP)—The Alberta Federation of Agriculture will press for expansion of trade with Iron Curtain countries, a program of acreage reduction, establishment of a national food bank and a two-price system for wheat and coarse grains in an effort to deal with the problem of Canada's mountainous agriculture surpluses.

Resolutions urging these moves were adopted Thursday night at the federation's 15th annual meeting. Delegates almost unanimously called for establishment of a national food bank of at least 250,000,000 bushels of wheat which would be a strategic reserve set up by the federal government purchased from the Canadian Wheat Board.

Delegates also asked the federation to study the feasibility of presenting a plan to the federal government which would provide from the federal treasury an acreage reduction incentive bonus to encourage producers to transfer cereal grain acreage to soil building crops.

Under the program, announced last fall, the government guarantees bank loans up to $1,500 at 5 per cent interest on stored grain.

All Parties Join in Attack

Opposition party leaders centred criticism on wheat policies Thursday as they opened fire in the Commons on the government's legislative program with two non-confidence motions.

Opposition Leader Drew presented a motion stating the situation on the Prairies may be summed up as "starvation in the midst of plenty." Farmers had plenty of food but no cash to share in Canada's general well-being because the government had not provided distribution of their surpluses.

"Like Mr. Coldwell, Mr. Drew criticized the government's plan, begun last November, of guaranteeing bank loans on farm-stored grain and said cash advances should be made without delay."

He said the loans-guarantee plan was unsatisfactory.

Mr. Drew said there is enough empty space in western elevators to store 100,000,000 bushels of high-grade wheat. He urged a five-point program which included sale of low-grade wheat from elevators as feed grain in Ontario and Quebec to make more room for high-grade wheat now on farms.

Mr. Coldwell described the loans-guarantee plan as "inadequate, cumbersome and bound with red tape from beginning to end."

"REMOTE, COLD"

He said the government's attitude is "remote, cold and unsympathetic" in the face of a Prairie cash shortage which left farmers unable to meet immediate living expenses and farming costs.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, who followed Mr. Drew in the throne speech debate, said the government had considered the

MISSIONARIES' BODIES FOUND MUTILATED

QUITO, Ecuador (UP)—The bodies of four massacred American missionaries have been found in the "green hell" jungles of eastern Ecuador, and there is only a "remote chance" that a fifth survived a savage Indian attack, it was reported today.

An unconfirmed radio report from the jungle said at least one of the slain men had been decapitated—recalling the Aca Indians' grisly practice of shrinking the heads of their victims.

Only one of the murdered missionaries has been positively identified so far—Nahaniel Saint of Fullerton, Calif., the only member of the party who was wearing khaki clothing. Mutilation made it impossible to identify the other three bodies.

The men who flew into the jungle with Saint Sunday were T. Edward McCully Jr. of Wauwatosa, Wis.; Roger Youdarin of Billings, Mont.; Peter Fleming of Seattle, and James Elliott of Portland, Ore.

A U.S. Air Force helicopter, piloted by Maj. Malcolm L. Nurnberg, sighted the four bodies yesterday in shallow water along the banks of the rain-swollen Curacay River.

Young Mother Testifies at Vancouver Copp-Killing Hearing; Gordon Committed

VANCOUVER (CP)—A young mother, testifying in a hushed courtroom, said late Thursday she sat feeding her two-month-old baby while a policeman was shot to death nearby.

Mrs. Noreen Carey, 27, gave evidence at the preliminary hearing of Joe Gordon, 33-year-old salesman committed for trial on a charge of murder arising from the Dec. 7 slaying of Constable Gordon Sinclair.

Sinclair, 41, and the father of three, died with a bullet in the head and another in the back as he stepped from his one-man patrol car in the shadows under Granville street bridge while investigating a prowler call.

Mrs. Carey's husband, Donald, 27, is sought in eastern Canada as a material witness.

The woman said Gordon was driving her and her husband to a dinner engagement in suburban Burnaby but stopped to pick up a man she named as Bob Smith.

TWO LEFT CAR

They drove to the spot where the shooting took place and Gordon and her husband left the car.

After two shots rang out, her husband and Gordon ran back to the car as Smith began to pull away.

As they fled the scene, she said, Gordon cried:

"Let me out, let me out. I shot the guy."

"The car pulled out so fast I had to put the baby on the floor," Mrs. Carey said. "I was trying to feed him his bottle."

Before they arrived at the scene of the shooting, she said, Gordon possibility of providing cash advances on farm-stored grain but felt it would be impractical.

He said the board was not set up to provide such a service.

Mr. St. Laurent added that sales efforts abroad have been pushed and since the end of November wheat sales have mounted greatly in excess of those in the similar period a year previous. That statement did not apply to deliveries in that period, since they were conditioned on transport facilities. Those facilities had been used "to the extent of their availability."

PRESSURE ON RAILWAYS

The prime minister denied, however, Mr. Drew's statement that 100,000,000 bushels of space is available in elevators.

He said Trade Minister Howe considers the available space is less than half that figure.

There was some space in Lakehead and Pacific elevators because of a difficulty in getting boxcars and pressure was being put on the railways to make available all the facilities possible for moving grain.

Mr. St. Laurent said Canada is not alone in facing a wheat problem.

In the last several years the four major exporters—United States, Canada, Australia, and Argentina—had produced more wheat than importing countries could absorb. And importing countries were promoting home-grown wheat.

Earlier in the sitting, Trade Minister Howe informed the Commons that the government's program for wheat now is on the order papers.

One measure would ratify the loans-guarantee program on bank loans on farm-stored grain up to $1,500 at 5 per cent interest. Another would provide for the treasury to bear storage charges on all wheat held by the wheat board in excess of 178,000,000 bushels, effective last Aug. 1—start of the current crop year.

DREW PROGRAM

Mr. Drew said that instead of instituting the loans-guarantee program last November the government should have summoned Parliament on the issue.

"The government regards Parliament as a place to get the stamp put on afterwards," he said.

Mr. Drew said there has been a sharp decline in western farm income "which if repeated in other parts of the economy would have spelled disaster."

Mr. Coldwell said the government's loans-guarantee policy has been ineffective in practice. A $1,500 loan maximum had been provided, but in many cases the most a farmer could borrow was $200 even if he had the grain to back it up.

Mr. Hansell said farmers are caught in a cost-price squeeze as prices of their products fall and the cost of their purchases rises.

Italian Apples Dumped in U.K. Hit B.C. Market

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Italian producers have dumped 7,000 tons of apples in the United Kingdom and the market there now is "chaotic," R. P. Walrod, general manager of British Columbia Tree Fruits Ltd., said here.

Mr. Walrod said Okanagan growers had hoped to cut their surplus this season by exporting to the U.K. Although nearly 500,000 boxes have already been shipped, the Italian move could lead to lower prices.

Free TV Broadcasts Promise Lively Debate

(From Times News Services)

The issue of whether or not free-time political broadcasting should be carried into television promised today to become a lively one in Parliament.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and Opposition Leader George Drew stated their views Thursday and other members will follow during the next week.

Mr. St. Laurent said: "There is not going to be any obstacle to the use of television for legitimate processes." But he added that he had never been "too favorably impressed by some of the so-called political television broadcasts that have come from countries where it is used to a very considerable degree." He did not say what countries he had in mind.

Drew said, during the Throne Speech debate, that Canada "must be almost unique on either side of the Iron Curtain" because "the Canadian people have yet to see the first political broadcast by any representative of any of the national parties."

Premier W. A. C. Bennett has come out strongly in favor of allowing political telecasting. Social Credit plugged its candidate in the Vancouver-Centre by-election in broadcasts carried by a Bellingham TV station. The premier said it is "strange" and "ridiculous" that Canadians should have to go to a foreign land to use the new medium for political broadcasts.

(Thursday the CBC announced free time political telecasts would be provided for B.C. politicians.)

Urges Probe of Gas Pipeline Plans

Appointment of a special Commons committee to inquire into the construction of the northern Ontario section of the west-to-east natural gas pipeline was urged Thursday by Opposition Leader Drew.

He said this is the only way members could be adequately informed on the government's policy for building and financing this 675-mile section of the line.

However, Prime Minister St. Laurent said the appropriate time to explain the government's policy and the reasons for that policy will be when the legislation is presented to the House.

Mr. Drew urged that government legislation proposing the establishment of a crown company to build the section in conjunction with Ontario be placed before the House early in the session.

Cost of the northern Ontario section has been estimated at $118,000,000. Ontario is to put up one-third to a maximum of $35,000,000 and the federal government the remainder.

Coldwell Fears U.S. Dominance

Fear that growing United States dominance in Canadian trade, industries and investments may affect Canada's economic and political life was expressed by CCF leader Coldwell.

The socialist party chief said the federal government should seriously consider the implications a concentration of Canadian trade on U.S. markets and increasing U.S. dominance in Canadian industry may have on "the very independence of Canada."

He said his fears are not the result of a narrow spirit, because he has profound respect and high regard for U.S. citizens as citizens.

But he said he is convinced Canada "has something to offer to the world at large and something which would be lost if the Canadian voice became merely an echo — which it has been all too frequently — of the larger and louder voice of the United States."

He said the vast majority of thinking Canadians will agree with him in his objection to and fear of "the vast power of American corporations in Canadian economic — and sometimes political — life."

Solomon Low, Social Credit party leader, is mending from a heart attack and will be back in the Commons "in the not too distant future," his deputy said Thursday night.

Rev. E. G. Hansell, Social Credit member for Macleod and acting party leader, said Mr. Low is doing remarkably well and his doctors feel he will have a complete recovery.

Hansell has a secret which all other members of parliament would like to know. He told the Commons last night the Social Credit party would sweep the country if it gained power in one more province. But he refused to tell the Commons what province he thought was likely to be won by the fourth party in national politics.

Two bills aimed at limiting the interest on loans to 1 per cent a month or 12 per cent a year were introduced by Hazen Argue (CCF—Assiniboia).

Mr. Argue proposed an amendment to the Small Loans Act, which regulates small loans companies, to put a 1 per cent limit on small loans. The present limit is 2 per cent.

A second bill, a proposed amendment to the interest act, calls for an interest rate not exceeding 12 per cent a year in any contract or agreement.

No legislation to establish a Canada Council is planned by the government this session "unless the situation changes very materially before the end of the session," Prime Minister St. Laurent said.

AIR FERRY FIRST FLIGHT SATURDAY

First flight of Pacific Western Airlines' new air-bus service between Victoria, Nanaimo and Vancouver takes off from Patricia Bay airport at 11 a.m. Saturday, with press representatives and civic dignitaries aboard.

Six round-trips daily are scheduled for the low-cost tourist service which will be operated on a non-reservation basis without "frills."

Trip from here to Vancouver, via Nanaimo's Cassidy airport, will take about 45 minutes.

Atomic Tests Set by U.S. For Spring

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced plans Thursday for a new series of atomic tests in the Pacific this spring—but with weapons "substantially" less powerful than the mighty hydrogen blast two years ago.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the defence department issued a joint announcement saying preparations are under way for the tests at Eniwetok proving ground in the central Pacific. They took pains to explain this was being done because no effective international plan exists for atomic weapons control.

The statement did not say what type weapons would be tested. It did say that "one of the important purposes of the series will be the further development of methods of defence against nuclear attack."

In a supplementary statement, AEC chairman Lewis L. Strauss said the forthcoming tests "will involve weapons generally smaller in yield than those tested during the 1954 test series."

Segregation Ended By Georgia Church

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—The general board of evangelism of the Methodist Church Thursday ordered an end to administration of its program on a racially segregated basis. The board voted to discontinue its department of Negro work, announcing: "The time has come when a special department is no longer needed and it is our desire that the entire staff work with the whole church."

Fresh Idea on Little Ross

EVERY now and then people come up with the idea that Little Ross Bay ought to be converted into a youngsters' swimming pool, with a small bit of assistance from the city.

They point out that the rock formation there almost encloses water at a medium tide. A little concrete here and there to wall up fissures would complete the job, they say. They're right, too.

But there is one big difficulty about Little Ross Bay — a difficulty which destroyed the nicest bit of lobbying I ever attempted when I was covering City Hall. I had almost convinced the public works committee it should undertake the swimming pool job there when we encountered a health problem. The chairman of the committee explained to me that currents flowed in such a way that the effluent from the Ross Bay sewer outfall was swept into the little bay.

Up to the time the city erected a sign warning people not to bathe there because the water was polluted, I guess a few hundred kids have swum and frolicked in Little Ross Bay. They were protected from infection, I guess, by the immunity of ignorance. If any contracted serious disease I never heard of it.

Nobody wants to advocate a swim pool filled by not too diluted sewage. But a friend of mine — an old Ross Bay boy — has come up with a new wrinkle.

"You know this toy boat pond they've built?" he asked.

"They're going to put water into it somehow, aren't they? That's going to cost money, isn't it?" Fine.

"Well, you remember the Little Ross Bay swim pool suggestion? Sure. You remember, I guess, that it wasn't figured any good because of the sewage that swept in there from the outfall. That's fair enough, too.

"But look at it this way: Why not go ahead, build concrete walls where they're needed to make an enclosure at Little Ross Bay and then pour fresh water into it? Fresh water wouldn't have any sewage content.

Stott

It'd be as clean as the stuff we drink — would be the stuff we drink — until the kids had mucked it about. If it got too dirty, then it could be drained off at low tide and a new supply run in.

"What's wrong about putting water in a toy boat pond that would be wrong about putting fresh water into a Little Ross Bay swim pool?"

"Now, me, I'm not very fond of sailing toy boats. But I am interested in seeing a swim pool built for the kids at Little Ross. I was a kid around there myself.

"Then if the city, or Greater Victoria, at some future date did the right thing by its sewage — if it treated the outfall with chlorine or if it used a different disposal system, why, Little Ross could be flooded with salt water, once the danger of contamination was removed.

"It seems to me it shouldn't be too hard to swing a plan to give kids around Ross Bay and that area, generally, a swim pool. Of course it would cost a little money. But what about the Gorge scheme? That isn't going to be carried through for nothing. I'm all for improvement of the Gorge and its restoration. Just the same, I'd like to see a little spent on Ross Bay. That's where I was a kid and I don't think much has been spent around there to give the kids a break — not on the waterfront, anyhow."

I guess I should have told my friend that there are other problems beside sewage to consider in relation to outdoor pools here. One is protection of the water in the pool from pollution through use. If a whole lot of kids swim in a small enclosure, the water can grow pretty high in a short time. If it's changed regularly, it doesn't have much chance to get warm. Or if it's treated, as indoor tanks are treated with chlorine, the costs can be substantial.

There are lots of arguments against providing outdoor swimming facilities on this coast. Still I think the idea deserves more than casual dismissal. Every year youngsters do swim at the beach — older folk go further out with the Black Dog or tugboats to keep them company. And an enclosed body of water should be warmer than the sea.

It would cost money. But so did the toy boat pond.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

New Idea About Viruses

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

At the recent meeting of the American Chemical Society, in Minneapolis, Dr. Barry Commoner made the interesting suggestion that disease may at times result from an unfortunate combination of the host's protein (the essential substance in beef or white of egg) with the wrong nucleic acid. Today we know that viruses are made up largely of these remarkable acids which are concentrated in the nucleus of each cell and have most to do with determining what the particular cell is going to be like, how it is going to grow, and what sort of plant or animal is going to develop from it.

One can easily see how the entrance into a cell, or development in it, of a wrong nucleic acid might produce disease. It would be like introducing into the assembly line in an automobile factory a lot of nuts with a metric or a left-handed thread. They would look all right but they wouldn't work. They would throw the workers into confusion and would stall the line.

According to Science News Letter, Dr. Commoner said that results similar to his had been obtained independently at the University of California by a research group headed by Drs. H. Fraenkel-Conrat and Robley Williams.

Of late, able researchers, by analyzing chemically the structure of the very tiny viruses have thrown great light on what happens to the body cells when a living poison invades them.

As I have said before in this column, no one should ever sneer at the work of some research chemist simply because, at the time, no one can guess what its importance is going to be.

To illustrate: For years, Dr. Langmuir of the General Electric Laboratories spent his time studying the ways in which gases boil out of white-hot metals. Probably few persons saw any sense to this work until gradually the doctor learned such facts as enabled him to make the modern electric light globe.

GOOD MEN ESSENTIAL

At the dedication of the great Mayo Memorial Building, at the University of Minnesota, Dr. I. S. Ravdin, who is John Barton, Professor of Surgery at the University of Pennsylvania, said, speaking of the training of surgeons, "There are many reasons why we must look more carefully at the candidates we select for training; the program we offer them, and the leadership we show them."

"There are many reasons why, in addition to training men who will advance the borders of surgical effort, we should... endeavor to train men who have a deep appreciation of man as a man. Many of the evil practices that have befallen us are due to the fact that we have not fully taken these matters into account."

Those who were listening to him heartily approved of this statement, because they knew that a surgeon needs a greater sense of honesty and dedication, and a greater spirit of disinterestedness in his behavior, than does any other man in the world. Why? Because an unwise or unneeded operation, particularly on a woman's pelvic organs, can ruin a life. To charge a woman $500 for an unwise operation is a minor offence compared with the terrible offence of perhaps throwing her into a severe menopausal depression; taking away her sexual interest, and thereby wrecking her marriage.

Just before I wrote this I saw a lovely woman who consulted me some 20 years ago, when she was 25. Two years before that, a surgeon had performed a hysterectomy, apparently because the woman had a small fibroid tumor. Today, I doubt if many surgeons could be found who would perform such an operation on such a young woman. They now know that the danger of the fibroid's turning into cancer is so small as not to be worth worrying about. In 1935, when I first saw this woman, she was a bunch of nerves, she was depressed, and she was terribly unhappy because she was one of those unfortunate women who, after this type of operation, lose their sexual interest and feeling. Because of this, she was losing her husband's love. Now, she tells me that her husband eventually divorced her and left her very unhappy.

NEW HOPE FOR ARTHRITIS

According to Dr. Warren D. Platt and Irving H. Steinberg, writing in the Annals of Internal Medicine, hexamethonium chloride, which has been used in the treatment of severe forms of high blood pressure, will relieve the pains that some persons have with arthritis. That the drug really worked was shown by the fact that when its use was discontinued the pain returned. Doubtless in every case the administration of this powerful and tricky drug will have to be watched over by an able physician.

City Plans All-Out Campaign On Local Improvements Projects

A drive to increase public participation in sidewalk, curb and gutter and boulevard construction in Victoria was announced Thursday at City Hall.

City Engineer James C. Garnett said city council public works committee has given full approval to an all-out campaign for increased local improvement projects.

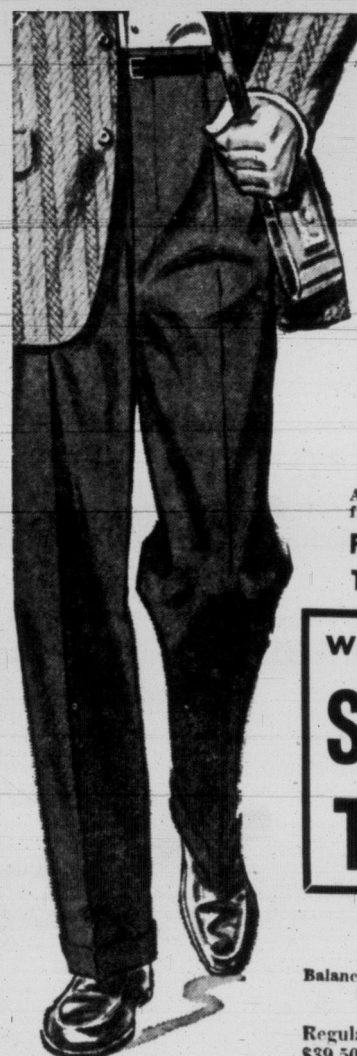

"If necessary we will hire more crews," Mr. Garnett stated.

Under the local improvement scheme, residents on a single block may petition the city for sidewalks, curbs and gutters and have the cost amortized over a 15-year period, payable as taxes.

A two-thirds majority on each block is necessary to launch the scheme. Cost of a sidewalk to front a 50-foot lot is less than $11 a year. Where sidewalks are already installed, residents may obtain curb and gutter construction with allowance for a boulevard, for less than $9 a year.

Free seed for boulevard planting is supplied by the city parks department when a project is underway.

Bay Street Armoury Impresses General

BY AR KENT

When the Canadian army quartermaster general left Vi-toria Thursday night he took with him two distinct impressions: efficient settling-in at Camp Gordon Head and fine accommodation of Bay Street
Armory.

Maj. Gen. Geoffrey Walsh ended a two-day tour of Vancouver Island military camps and installations at Work Point Thursday. It was his first tour of army commands since being appointed QMG in September, 1955.

He referred to his trip as a routine familiarization inspection, carried out so that "if anything comes up we'll know where we're at."

"There's no liaison like personal relations," he said.
"I was most impressed with your armoury; it's a very good one."

Told that 25 Militia Group found difficulty in parading its entire complement in the building at one time, the general remarked, "But you can parade outdoors all-year 'round in this part of the country."

Both Gen. Walsh, former director of military training, and Maj. Gen. Chris Vokes, commanding officer of Western Command, were pleased with the progress made by Second Battalion Queen's Own Rifles of Canada in settling at Gordon Head.

ROOM FOR MORE

Gen. Vokes said there were no plans to expand, Camp Gordon Head or make extensive alterations.

"That camp will accommodate 1,000 men," he said. There are presently about 600 men in the battalion.

Gen. Walsh found one kitchen at Gordon Head in need of repairs, work on which will be carried out soon.

He declined comment on standardization of army equipment, such as adoption of the Belgian FN rifle among NATO-member nations.

"The minister (of national defence) has made a statement on that," he said. The rifle is presently under study by Canadian forces in Germany and in the various commands across Canada.

Russians Plan Study Of Arctic

OTTAWA (CP)—The Russians say they are planning a mass scientific assault on the Soviet sector of the Arctic.

The statement is contained in an article on Russian Arctic research in the latest issue of the Soviet News Bulletin, published by the Russian embassy here.

The article says that during the 1957-58 international geophysical year, scientific observations will be conducted at the 100-odd regular Russian Arctic stations and at more than 500 points in the central Arctic basin. Mobile scientific teams will be landed on the ice by aircraft.

A new station on a floating ice island, known as North Pole
6, will be set up.

Officials here have said that Russia is about 10 years ahead of Canada in Arctic research.

Traffic Control Sparks Argument

Engineers Win Out in Council Debate; Worsley to Take Course

City council Thursday decided to send assistant city engineer G. N. Worsley to Illinois for a course in traffic engineering, over the strong objections of Ald. Robert Macmillan.

The comparatively minor item of council business, re-opened lively debate on whether traffic administration should remain in the city engineer's department or be returned to the police department.

A recommendation was received from public works committee that Mr. Worsley, who has headed the traffic section of the engineer's department since the retirement last year of Robert Doble, be sent for a three-week course at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. Cost was set at $500.

Ald. Macmillan stated that he couldn't agree. When traffic was brought to city hall from the police station five years ago, he felt it was being misplaced.

"When Mr. Doble resigned no new appointment was ever made. I understood the matter was left until the status of the traffic department was clarified."

NOT WORTH IT

He said that what Mr. Worsley could learn in three weeks wouldn't be worth $500 to the city and added that a similar course had already been taken "more extensively" by a member of the police force.

(Sgt. Brooke Douglass of city police was sent for a course in traffic problems a few years ago. Some aldermen, when Mr. Doble resigned, had expressed the opinion that Sgt. Douglass might then be elevated to the post of traffic engineer.)

Ald. Geoffrey I. Edgelow said the money would be "well spent" in sending Mr. Worsley for the course. "He will be able to get up-to-date ideas in solving of traffic problems in other areas."

DIFFERENT COURSE

Ald. M. H. Mooney told council that Mr. Worsley was appointed in Mr. Doble's place by the city manager. He added that the course "... is a different course than the officer took."

Mayor P. B. Scurrah said he felt that traffic is an engineering problem and not a police problem. "I'm not in favor of the police making the laws then enforcing them."

"The control of traffic expenditures should remain with council," said Ald. W. F. Pin-

Ald. Smith asked a two-week delay in the final decision to clarify the council position. He said he wasn't familiar with the problem and after all, Victoria was a very peculiar city. He said it was different from other cities in Canada due to the geographical position on the toe of the Island. "Traffic has to turn around to get out." He said problems of parking and the Roundabout are local problems and would not likely be covered by the course.

"Having two zones of responsibility, police and city hall is duplication. I never heard of the post of traffic engineer up until five years ago. One department can do the job," said Ald. Macmillan.

"If you carry on with this you'll be faced with dissent from both departments in three or four months—that's a prediction," he stated.

The motion was passed with only Ald. Smith and Macmillan opposed.

Sylvia and Michael Grandjean to star here.

Ice Capade Stars Share Name But Are Unrelated

If it was Smith or Jones it would be more believable—but it's a fact nonetheless that pair skaters Michael and Sylvia Grandjean, who share the same family name, country, home town and a top act in Ice Capades aren't even distantly related.

The pair has been skating professionally for one year. Michael is 24 and Sylvia 20. Both were members of the 1952 Olympic team from Switzerland and won a European championship.

They will be seen in Victoria Tuesday to Saturday next week in the 11th international edition of Ice Capades—big sister to Ice Cycles which played here in past several years.

Both Michael and Sylvia come from Neuchatel, near Geneva in Switzerland, belonged to the same skating clubs but never met until they were selected for a home town skating meet.

After their success with the Olympic team they were spotted by Donna Atwood, an American skating great, who incidentally is married to John Harris, producer of the twin ice shows. The Harris family was in Europe on business and what finer stroke of commerce than to sign fresh blood?

President Eisenhower asked Congress Thursday to provide total of $1,250,000,000 in federal grants over the next five years to help build badly needed schoolrooms.

Saskatchewan To Go Sober Irwin Claims

Speaker of the Legislature Thomas Irwin Thursday predicted victory for Social Credit in the next Saskatchewan provincial election.

"I'm prophesying right now that the next government of Saskatchewan will be a Social Credit government," he told the Saskatchewan Social Credit Constituency Association.

The Socreds, he said, following an eight-week tour of the northern section of the province, will have a candidate in every riding.

People there were fed up with "bureaucracy" and the "stupid things" resulting from government controls there, he said.

"Whenever a government sticks its nose into your private business, you are sunk," he added.

In the international field of markets, Mr. Speaker termed it a "horrible" commentary on this country that the government had sold butter to Czechoslovakia and East Germany, "subsidized by the people of Canada."

He suggested a 50-cent redeemable certificate be attached to cheques received by persons on a means test now getting government aid, to be used for butter purchase. This would help take care of Canada's butter surplus, and would not harm butter sales.

Many now using magazine would switch to butter, he said.

On patronage in government jobs, Mr. Irwin said being a Socred was not necessarily the qualification for doing a good job, and the latter was the essential qualification for any government employee today.

He said Socred monetary reforms would be accomplished when Social Credit was in harness in Ottawa, "the goal to which we are heading in the not too far distant."

About 60 persons heard the talk in the Lake Hill Women's Institute Hall.

Zoning By-Law Faces New Cause for Delay

City council, which debated a new zoning by-law throughout most of last year, now has a revised version of the same measure to consider.

Council Thursday dropped the original by-law and called a public hearing on the revised one, which also received its first two readings.

City solicitor A. J. Patton was asked in December to put the 1953 draft by-law in proper legal form and wording.

The new draft submitted Thursday was changed so much, and had so many new amendments, it was treated as an entirely new by-law—requiring another public hearing.

It was indicated that although Ald. Robert Macmillan, who has led countless attacks on the by-law, will be away in Europe, the measure still will get a clause-by-clause study.

He demanded the detailed study by taking advantage of a section of the procedure by-law.

IT TOOK 100 TO FREE HIS HEAD

TOKYO (AP)—Bunichi Yonenaga fell and got his head stuck between a commuter train car and the high-level platform Thursday.

Finally, a hundred passengers moved to the other side of the car. It tilted and out came Yonenaga, suffering only bruises.

MR. R. G. MILLER,
Manager—Vancouver
Main Branch,
Canadian Bank of Commerce

OPEN TO PUBLIC INSPECTION FROM 11 A.M. TO 6 P.M. SATURDAY, JANUARY 14th.

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE
MORE THAN 700 BRANCHES ACROSS CANADA

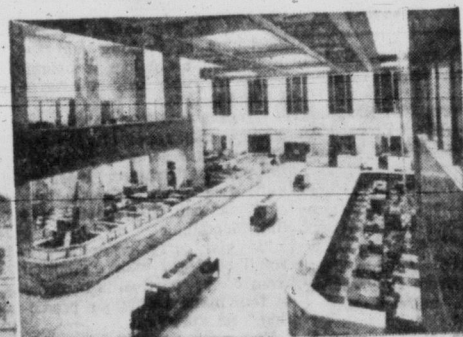

The newly-founded City of Vancouver consisted of little more than two blocks, in a small clearing in the forest, when the Bank of British Columbia opened the first banking office in this community, September, 1886. That was the year too, when the first trans-continental train arrived from Montreal to the Pacific Coast. Vancouver hummed with the excitement and hope of rapid growth.

Within fifteen years—by 1901, the population of Vancouver had grown to over 27,000 when the Bank of British Columbia . . . born in 1862 in the days of the Caribou gold rush . . . was amalgamated with The Canadian Bank of Commerce.

To keep pace with the steady and rapid growth of Canada's great Pacific seaport, The Canadian Bank of Commerce erected a new building for its Vancouver branch . . . at the corner of Hastings and Granville Streets . . . in 1909.

Throughout the years since then, we have worked happily with owners of shipping fleets, operators of immense grain elevators, lumbermen, fish canneries, mine-owners, manufacturers, farmers and men of sound enterprise of every sort, to help make Vancouver the great city of the present . . . Canada's third largest city. Today, we maintain 34 branches in the Greater Vancouver area . . . as part of our broad banking service of more than 700 branches across Canada.

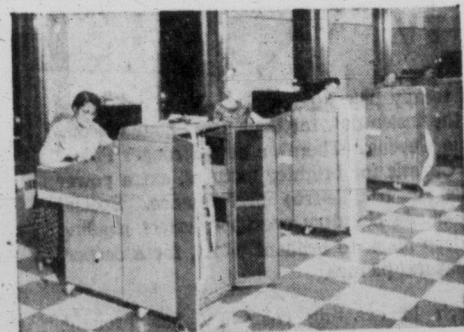

The spacious main banking hall, shown here in a view from the mezzanine, covers approximately 15,000 square feet.

The specially designed "saw tooth" counters in the savings department facilitate proper lining up and provide a measure of privacy for depositors.

An outstanding feature of the Hastings Street entrance is the impressive bronze plaque above the door depicting the four major industries of British Columbia.

The clearing department is equipped with a battery of seven of the latest I.B.M. Machines that list, endorse and sort cheques all in one operation.

Council Keeps Control Over Town Planning

City council Thursday defeated a move by Ald. Robert Macmillan to council level, said Ald. Macmillan. The Town Planning Commission recommendations to his zoning committee rather than direct to council.

Ald. Macmillan is chairman of parks committee which has a zoning committee as a sub-group. Two weeks ago council set a precedent in referring a TPC recommendation to that body. Since then parks committee recommended to council that this be made routine.

Last year Ald. Macmillan led attacks on several TPC recommendations, upsetting them on occasion.

Meeting Postponed

Carelessness Brings Fines To 4 Drivers

Fines totaling $150 were imposed in Saanich and city police courts Thursday on four men who pleaded guilty to careless driving charges.

Harry J. Cool, 1209 Yukon, and Gary T. Clark, 2209 Kinross, were each fined $40 in Saanich court. Thor Sallen, 5275 Santa Clara, was fined $35 in Saanich and Raymond Craig, 2283 Musgrave, paid a $35 fine in city court.

Licenses of Clark and Craig were suspended. Sallen was restricted to driving for business purposes only for two months. All were charged following recent accidents.

THE SCOREBOARD BY Harry Grayson

Golfers turn professional because they need money. When Frank Stranahan joined the pros last fall, he needed a quick buck like Custer required another Indian.

Stranahan's story is the most unusual in connection with the start of another winter tour.

Most successful playing pros quit the tournament-every-Thursdays transcontinental grind as quickly as they can afford to. Others play only part time once they are established financially. As Ben Hogan says, competitive golf is on hell of a chore. It's a gypsy's life... living out of suitcases, traveling in automobiles or station wagons, frequently with a trailer hitched on behind. You have to win to eat, and it's toughest when the money runs out halfway through the trip. The greatest of the shotmakers, including the incomparable Hogan, required backing.

Stranahan, the richest man ever to hit a golf ball so well, had no such problems. Why, then, did the handsome heir to the spark plug multi-millions forsake his amateur standing, fittingly enough on last Labor Day, to put up with hardships the more hardened pros shun?

Stranahan insists that not being named to the 1953 Walker Cup team had nothing to do with it.

"That doesn't mean I did not consider it a slur on my name," explains the son of the Toledo industrial giant. "There are three requirements: best record in recent tournaments, unquestioned amateur status and ability to represent this country in international relations. Members of the executive committee of the United States Golf Association most certainly could not have faulted me on the first two counts, and whether they knew it or not, I always got along jolly well in England.

He Prefers Exclusive Company

"I prefer medal play and playing with pros, who in my book are the greatest collection of eggs on earth. I wanted to play with fellows with whom I have in common—Middlebrook, Jeter-Boros, Ed Furgol, Bob Toski, Ted Kroll, Dave Douglas, guys like that.

"I grew tired of collecting silverware, being low amateur in open tournaments.

"I required added incentive. As an amateur, the pros paid little attention to me. Now that I am eligible to receive money, I get plenty of attention. You do, you know, when you win tournaments like the $17,500 Eastern Open, which I did in Baltimore shortly after having the right to go to the pay window."

Stranahan's answer to why he doesn't pay more attention to the tremendous business which some day he will inherit, is that he does.

Not even the intense Hogan was more dedicated to the Royal and Ancient than is the 33-year-old Stranahan. There's not enough daylight for the World War II Air Force pilot to practice. That's one reason why he likes to play in England, where in the summer it doesn't get dark until midnight.

Stranahan's gorgeous red-haired wife, Ann, is as daffy about golf as her husband.

"She hits the ball just like a pro," says the Strong Boy, beaming.

Tournaments Marked His and Hers

They're going to England next summer, the missus to play in the Ladies' Championship, June 25-29, Muscleville in the Open, July 26. Stranahan twice tied for second in the British Open, a shot behind Fred Daly in 1947, four behind Hogan in '53. He was twice the winner of the British Amateur and a finalist on a third trip.

While the United States Amateur eluded Stranahan, Sam Urzetta had to travel 39 holes to take him out of the 1950 final. He has won 60 tournaments, beating the money men 13 times. As a simon-pure, his biggest victories over the pros came in the Durham Open of 1945, the Kansas City in '46, the Greater Greensboro in '47 and the Miami in '48.

Frank Stranahan's continuing quest for perfection in golf is the final answer to the obvious question which arises concerning the compatibility of his rich background and the professionalism he embraced.

FRANKIE COMES HOME

Dazzler Albert To Coach 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Frankie Albert, who dazzled the college football world as its first modern T-formation quarterback, Thursday was named coach of San Francisco 49ers with whom he starred for seven years.

"I intend to put a colorful, representative team on the field," the 35-year-old, who has never been a head coach before, told a press conference.

If he means the kind of color he flashed when he called the signals for the National Football League entry, then look out for anything from an offense which this year sputtered through a dismal season.

For when Frankie ran the show as quarterback he might kick when he should have run, pass when he should have kicked, and run when all the laws of football logic called for a punt.

Co-owner Vic Morabito announced the appointment of Albert to succeed Norman Red Strader. Strader was fired Dec. 19 after just one year. Albert was one of his four assistants. The duration of Albert's contract and its terms were not disclosed.

Co-owner Tony Morabito was asked how it came about that he had selected one untied as a coach to lead the 49ers. "We in this organization have had a chance to observe Frankie for 11 years now, on and off the field. We liked what we saw," he said.

No More Vernon for Us Says Vs' Boss Warwick

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Grant Warwick, playing-coach of Penticton V's, said in an interview Thursday night his team will play no more Okanagan Senior Hockey League games in Vernon until refereeing shows an improvement there.

Warwick, who led Vs to the Allan Cup two years ago and to the world hockey championship last season, said he is awaiting word on a protest lodged with league officials regarding Vernon Canadians' 5-6 overtime win last Tuesday.

The Penticton club claims a misinterpretation of the rules by a referee kept Dick Warwick off the ice when he should have been allowed to play.

Dick was banished from the game after receiving two five-minute penalties.

"The rule book calls for a 15-minute penalty in such a case," Grant said. "If Dick had been allowed to sit out his 15-minute penalty instead of being banned from the game, he would have been back in action when Vernon scored its winning goal."

Grant, Dick and their brother Bill, form the Vs famed brotherhood.

Coach Grant said that under the constitution and the rule book, the league must allow the protest.

"With neutral referees, the Penticton V's are four goals better than Vernon any day, any game," Grant said.

The Penticton coach said Kelowna Packers have also criticized Vernon officiating.

Vernon leads the OSHL 14 points ahead of second-place Penticton.

CHURCH NEEDS CLUB SPIRIT SAYS PARSON

Service club members should seek in their own churches the same degree of participation in work as in their clubs, Rev. D. C. O'Connell, rector of St. David's-by-the-Sea, Cordova Bay, told the Rotary Club Thursday.

Mr. O'Connell said churches today were in need of active workers, particularly men.

"I suggest that members of service clubs should carry into their churches their club's way of thinking — No passengers. Grow only," he said.

Macmillan Attacks Point Ellice By-Law

Victoria Daily Times 13 FRIDAY, JAN. 13, 1956

Big George Mikan To End Retirement

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — George Mikan, one of basketball's greatest players, announced Thursday night he is coming out of retirement as the team's general manager to play with Minneapolis Lakers in the National Basketball Association.

Mikan, who will be 32 June 18, drew a reported $20,000 a season before he retired. He holds NBA records for most points in one season, 1,932, and highest average for a season, 28.4 points per game, both set in 1950-51.

Offers 2-1 Odds $300,000 Measure Will Be Rejected

Alderman Robert Macmillan told city council Thursday he'd give two-to-one odds that the Point Ellice Bridge $300,000 money by-law will be defeated by a 60 per cent "No" vote.

But his continuing attack on council decision to put the bridge question to an early vote by property owners, failed to halt first two readings of the by-law by council.

Council then tabled the by-law, presumably to await government reaction. Promised increases in the provincial grant to this city would obviate the need to borrow for the $500,000 structure.

The civic vote must follow third reading by 10 days.

Ald. Macmillan did succeed in bringing out further details concerning the proposed bridge and may have firmed opinions of other aldermen who have expressed a desire to end 10 years of contention one way or another.

Wait for Provincial Decision

When the by-law came up, Ald. Macmillan called for immediate tabling action. He said to Mayor P. B. Scurrah: "I understand now that you are going to approach the provincial government with respect to certain money for the city. It is wrong to introduce this by-law first. You should not be handicapped by having the by-law already introduced."

Ald. Don Smith, who recently asked Mayor Scurrah to veto the bridge resolution because he felt provincial aid would be forthcoming, confirmed his opposition. He also repeated his contention that the mill rate is likely to increase this year and further expenditure should be avoided.

Ald. Arthur Dowell expressed sorrow at Ald. Smith's opinions. "He is a member of last year's public works committee who supported a similar by-law for presentation to the electors. I would remind him of his earlier statement, 'Every hour that bridge is open we are endangering people's lives.'

Public Works Committee

"We've been criticized because people think we've been inactive. It's high time some definite action was taken," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

"This by-law will show the government that we feel there should be a new bridge," said Ald. M. H. Mooney.

"The situation has changed. We are faced with a 3 1/2-mill increase due to proposed road and sewer construction," replied Ald. Smith.

He added with regard to the bridge, "My statement still stands. I tried to have it closed two years ago."

Scurrah Urged to Use Veto

"I object to that," Ald. W. F. Pinfold said when Ald. Smith predicted a tax increase. "We haven't even considered the budget yet."

"That alone is enough to defeat the bridge. In view of the proposed mill rate increase, we are in a different position than we were in 1955. The credit would come to you if you vetoed this by-law," Ald. Smith told the mayor.

Ald. Pinfold reminded the mayor that during pre-election campaigning "you came out for the bridge. Your opponent vetoed it. We all know what happened at the polls. . . we have a public

He said there is "no limit" to type of targets the missile could be aimed against.

Sloan Hears IWA In FML Protest

The powerful International Woodworkers of America told the Sloan Royal Commission on Forestry, Thursday, that forest management licences are "monopolistic" in a "dangerous form."

IWA president Joe Morris said the management licences system, if allowed to continue, would "not only prevent establishment of new companies, but force hundreds of independent firms out of business."

The woodworkers' 32-page brief was presented at sittings of the Sloan commission now underway at Empress Hotel.

It dealt mainly with the "social" aspects of B.C.'s forest industry, rather than the complex questions of tenure.

Mr. Morris said "a more comprehensive plan of forest management and utilization" is required. He said "no attempt should be made to put into effect any long-term allocation of forest resources, to any large operator, until the industrial and social aspects of the forest program are carried out in greater detail."

The union brief said one of the fundamental concepts on which forest policy is based is that there must be sustained yield production.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Flax firmly up in late trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange after showing early irregularity.

Buying by exporters and shippers contributed to the upward swing. Early selling came from outside interests.

Trade reports indicated that 60,000 bushels of Canadian flax had been sold to Spain.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat maintained a firm tone on the board of trade today but there was hesitancy at times in feed grain, particularly oats.

Prospects of export business and dry weather in the southwest continued as the main props under wheat.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Temagami Jumps 75c

TORONTO (CP) — Western oils provided most of the strong spots in a generally dull stock market.

Selected base metals were in demand; industrials were featureless.

Key industrials were easier, but a few more gains than losses were posted by papers, utilities, foods and liquors.

Federal Grain fell $3.25 to 31.
Most senior base metals retreated, but Falconbridge squeezed out a 1/2 advance. Temagami stood out among coppers, with a 75-cent jump to $3.25.

Senior golds advanced, led by McIntyre, up 1/2.

Dome Exploration West led improved western oils, up 65 at $7.40 as new oil deals were rumored.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced today with railroads and chemicals in demand, but there was a general slide back from the best all around in the late afternoon.

There were gains of 1 to 2 points at the best, while losses usually were no greater than a point.

Although railroads and chemicals were the best of the major divisions, they never showed unusual strength.

Canadian stocks were mixed.
McIntyre advanced 1/2 and Dome domestic with shippers fair buyers in connection with eastern feed requirements. Rye was firm in this trade.

Lakehead prices for Class
Two, IWA and domestic wheat remained unchanged.

LONDON

LONDON (Reuters) — The London stock exchange closed the week on a quiet and uncertain note today and the general appearance was mixed.

Edged issues hardened after a dull start and initial small losses were recovered before the close.

Rail issues were quiet with Canadian Pacific off a fraction.
Dollar stocks recorded gains of a point or more.

BUSINESS DIARY

B.C. Gas Pipeline to Employ 2,000 Workers During Summer

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Times Business Editor

A working force of 2,000 men will be employed this summer along the 650-mile route of British Columbia's natural gas pipeline from the Peace River area to the U.S. border.

Operations are getting under this week with some 200 men at work. They include the clearing of a 60-foot wide right-of-way and this requires the smashing and burning of miles of unproductive brush, and preparations for river crossings.

For the start of this massive undertaking, Westcoast Transmission Co. Ltd. is moving camps from the Fraser Valley, the central interior and Dawson Creek to strategic points along the route, which starts in the Alberta-B.C. natural gas fields and runs in a southerly direction to Huntingdon on the international border, a few miles south of Abbotsford.

Heavy machinery is also being assembled at key points.

INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

A silent industrial revolution is altering the pattern of British family life.

Before the Second World War, only 900,000 British wives went out to work. Today, nearly 4,000,000 put out notes for the baker and milkman and hurry off to shops, offices and factories.

That is about one-third of all women and girls of working age in the country. Full employment in Britain has led to a booming demand for women workers—and the women are cashing in.

To offset criticism by magistrates, clergy and social workers, British industrialists declare they have set up nurseries in factories and workshops where mothers can leave their babies in expert hands for feeding and care.

TROJAN DRILLING

Trojan Exploration will more than double the scope of its initial diamond drilling program in Highland Valley copper area.
Arrangements are being made to increase the drilling from 10,000 feet to between 20,000 and 25,000 feet and new bids are being obtained to cover the larger footage.

Invited to attend are Mayor
Percy Scourah, Reeve Wurtel, Reeve Ash and Reeve Norris.
Delegates from Jaycee units in Duncan, Nanaimo and Port Alberni will also attend.

Mr. Smyth, whose home is in Montreal, is making his first official visit to Victoria since assuming the national presidency in the course of a six-month tour of Canadian Jaycee units.

He joined Trans-Canada Air Lines in Toronto in 1940 as a cargo clerk and now holds the position of flight dispatcher,
Atlantic region, located at Mon-real's Dorval Airport.

Fruits, Nuts and Jellies Fill These Yummy Candies

By PENNY SAVER

Never have I seen such an assortment of gum drops and wrapped candies! All the colors and delicious flavors you can imagine are displayed in glass cases so that you'll feel just like a little child with his nose pressed against the candy-store window. Which one to choose? They all look so good.

In a sweeping glance, I jotted down some of the names. They're enough to make you buy a handful of each. There are lime drops, raspberry fourres, fruit bonbons, liquid honey surrounded by toffee, fruit drops, coffee toffee, crushed pineapple toffee (Mmm-m-m) Tosca cracknels and assorted eclairs. Oh no, that's not all, how about some creamy mints, glace mints, almond fourres or a terrific new candy that looks very inviting. It's a liqueur and nougat mix, with swirls and blocks of all colors mixed with the black.

All these sweets are wrapped in the gayest papers. Some are clear, so you may see the actual sumptuous candy, others are silver or gold, and make each piece an adventure. Acid drops (why "acid," I don't know), lemon drops, tangerine balls, lime drops, caramel drops and fruit drops are round, and twisted in clear cellophane. Can you imagine the colors? These are 75 cents a pound, and as they become fancier, they go gradually up to 85 cents a pound. A mixture in the candy dish will make a quiet evening of talking or reading even more enjoyable. Something new in after-dinner mints has arrived, too. They're tiny, and made in hearts, blocks, triangle and many other shapes. Just right to finish a perfect meal, they're 70 cents a pound.

Have you tried Swiss milk chocolate? The bar of chocolate I've discovered is shaped like an extended triangle, and is filled with almonds and honey. Oh, my pampered sweet tooth! These large bars cost 75 cents, and smaller ones are two for 25 cents.

On the vegetable scene (back to the thoughts of everyday meals), I noticed a new addition on the stands this week. Marmalade oranges have arrived. Depending on where you buy, they sell at two pounds for 27 cents to two pounds for 33 cents. Rhubarb looks very fresh, and might be a welcomed change for dessert. It's 45 cents for two bunches. Mandarin oranges are dipping slightly to two pounds for 33 cents, and potatoes are 65 cents each.

Imported red cabbage is two pounds for 29 cents, and new potatoes are 35 cents for two pounds. Swiss chard, firm and tasty, is 15 cents a pound. Sprouts are 29 cents a pound, and spinach, 20 cents. Celery stalks looked very crisp and would be good in salads, with a cream sauce or stuffed with cheese. It's 25 cents a stalk. Lettuce is 20 cents a head for average size, and huge ones are 25 cents.

PTA NEWS

Tumble—Result of a discussion following a film "From Sociable Six to Noisy Nine" at meeting of Toimie PTA, showed it to be the general opinion that parents should take more time from other activities to invest in the characters of their children. It was also agreed that there is not enough discipline today and that as consistency in discipline takes thought and effort, parents are inclined to take the easy way out and "shrug it off." It was pointed out that fathers do not spend enough time with their children and that frequently both parents fail to give logical explanation when children ask questions, which must be baffling and frustrating to the child who is seeking knowledge from the only source he or she knows. Principal H. C. O'Donnell demonstrated use of a tape recorder purchased by the PTA for the school. Mrs. C. F. Steen reported nothing had been done regarding a sidewalk on Saanich Road near the highway and a motion was passed to again write Saanich council regarding this matter. It was also decided to sponsor a radio program in April.

Victoria West—A film followed by a buzz session, will highlight meeting of the Victoria West PTA to be held in the school auditorium on Tuesday at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

SWOOP LINE

Reminiscent of the 1920's is this style called the "swoop." It has a free line with flattering motion introduced by panels and pleats. Designed for late-day wear, the swoop-sheathed neck is of British wool. From the low neckline, black taffeta springs in two swooping panels. The model wears a huge hat.

Charter Ceremony At Langford

Mrs. S. McDonald, first vice-president, Provincial Command, Canadian Legion, conducted ceremonies at presentation of the charter and installation of officers of the Women's Auxiliary, Prince Edward Branch, No. 91, Canadian Legion, BESL, Langford.

Officers installed were Mrs. F. Slater, president; Mrs. M. Guttormson, vice-president; Mrs. P. Patterson, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. A. D. Fraser, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. L. B. Goodwin, Mrs. O. Jameson, Mrs. T. McKay and Mrs. Fraser, executive council, and Mrs. L. Monahan, social convener.

In her address, Mrs. McDonald stressed that it was the duty of the auxiliary to give assistance to the parent branch and that its work should be concentrated on the veterans.

Upon receiving the charter from Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Slater spoke briefly to members and on their behalf presented Mrs. McDonald with a gift in appreciation for her assistance in forming the Langford auxiliary. Mrs. Slater also voiced appreciation of members to Prince Edward Branch for financial help in getting the charter.

Color party was formed by members of the parent branch, N. Elliott, A. Bodman, F. Pugh and T. Plummer. Assisting Mrs. McDonald with the meeting was T. Panter, president of Prince Edward Branch and W. Patterson, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Monahan convoked the serving of refreshments.

LIVING IN SASKATOON

Mr. Wayne L. Halstrom, and his bride, the former Miss Megan Joyce Roberts, cut their wedding cake at a reception in the Golden Slipper Supper Club following their wedding in First United Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Roberts, 422 Simcoe street, and her groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Halstrom of Moose Jaw, Sask. The newlyweds are now living in Saskatoon, where Mr. Halstrom is attending the University of Saskatchewan and Mrs. Halstrom is on the staff of the Saskatoon school board. (Paul Jonas Photo.)

British Columbia Woman Finds 'Dream' Job in Ottawa Craft Shop

OTTAWA (CP)—An Ottawa woman has found the kind of work she's always liked but never thought of looking for. It all came about by chance.

Mrs. Agnes H. Fulton now works as a saleswoman in a craft shop where each item carries a "Blindcraft" tag.

The shop is in the Ottawa home and welfare centre for the blind. Colorful jardiniere, shiny leather purses, key cases and wallets, rubber doormats, knitted articles and basketry fill the shelves.

Mrs. Fulton, a tall, white-haired grandmother, said the job, a part-time one which becomes full-time in busy seasons, came strictly by chance.

CAME FROM B.C.

The English-born woman and her husband, a federal transport department employee, moved to Ottawa last June from Ashcroft, near Kamloops, B.C. Looking for part-time work she visited the special replacement office of the national employment service here. In reviewing her experience she "just happened to mention my interest in hobbycraft."

As a result, Mrs. Fulton, who had done some clerking and spent five years as a nursing assistant in a provincial infirmary in Vancouver, found herself with the kind of job she'd always wanted—and more.

The home and welfare centre is a residence for 26 blind men and women and houses district offices of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. It also includes a crafts room and a basement workshop used by some 20 blind folk. Of the 42 persons who daily live or work in the centre, 31 are blind.

LENDS HELPING HAND

Mrs. Fulton has personal contact with many of her supplies for whom she sells hobby work and takes calls for special orders and furniture repairs.

"No two days are ever alike here," she said. "No matter how busy you are, you always find time to do little things to help."

Extras include reading or addressing cards and letters for the residents and generally lending a helping hand. Frequently it takes a little time to brighten a dark day. For some of the residents are blind, deaf and dumb and Mrs. Fulton has also found her way to their silent, sightless world.

Youell-Boulton Vows Solemnized In Candlelight in First United

Miss Helen Ruth Boulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Boulton, 1144 Chapman street, exchanged vows with Thomas Ronald Youell, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Youell, 4088 Glanford avenue, Thursday evening in First United Church.

Rev. A. Higgins officiated at the candlelight ceremony and Mrs. R. Kruger, accompanied by Mr. Kruger at the organ, sang "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace and net over tulle gown in ballerina length. The strapless bodice was topped with a pearl tulle held her misting fingertip veil of nylon illusion. She wore a white gold cross and carried a circlet bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Wilma Boulton, who wore a blue tulle-length gown fashioned on the same lines as the bridal gown. She carried Kokomo and yellow carnations in a colonial bouquet. Barry Youell was best man.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, where streamers and bells formed the decorations. Assisting in receiving guests were Mrs. Boulton, in a beige two-piece dress with coral and navy blue accessories and a corsage of gardenias and feathered chrysanthemums, and Mrs. Youell, in a sapphire blue afternoon dress with matching accessories and a gardenia and chrysanthemum corsage. White chrysanthemums and candles in silver holders flanked the three-tier wedding cake which was placed in a mist of tulle centring the lace-covered table.

L. J. Muirhead, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to her happiness.

For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a beige box-style suit with blue topcoat and navy accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. Youell will make their home at 4088 Glanford avenue.

King's Daughters Attend Church

Officers and members of Victoria District King's Daughters will observe annual church Sunday at Centennial United Church, Gorge Road, at 11 a.m. this Sunday. All members are asked to attend.

The Pas Carnival Popular With Winter Vacationers

A winter carnival, as peculiar to the land north of '33 as the Mardi Gras is to New Orleans, will once again be held at The Pas in northern Manitoba on February 15, 16 and 17. At that time the town will play host to the many northerners and visitors from the south who will attend the Ninth Annual Trappers' Festival.

Known as Manitoba's "Gateway to the North," The Pas has long been the jumping-off place for trappers and prospectors, and the distributing centre for northern supplies. Similarly, minerals and timber, fur and fish from the wilderness territory beyond, are routed through it.

More recently, it has gained fame among vacationers as the gateway to fabulous fishing and hunting areas.

However, The Pas is perhaps at its best as a frontier town during the Trappers' Festival, highlight of the year to the men from the lonely traplines.

This year, "southerners" who have never before seen a dog team, will watch the finish of the Canadian Championship Dog Derby, over its 150-mile course; enjoy the moose meat barbecue; and witness such typically northern contests as the muskrat skinning competition. Old-time fiddling, stage shows and dances will complete the three-day long festivities.

Visitors may stay in convenience at one of The Pas' modern hotels and test for themselves the tradition of frontier hospitality among vacationers as the

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today in her column, Josephine Lowman explores the pretty picture of a beautiful woman and cites self-discipline as important in attaining beauty and poise.

A beautiful woman is self-made. She may have been born a beautiful child. She may have been a beautiful girl, but when you can say of a woman from middle age on, "Isn't she lovely?" there is always more than meets the eye.

There is more than meets the eye in many ways. There is an inner poise, a feeling of oneness with life, warmth, understanding, a sense of humor which is really a sense of values and a love of life.

However, you also can be certain that behind this lovely picture there is self-discipline, an awareness of the value of physical fitness and correct weight and good posture and fine nutrition.

Such a person has remained acutely alive in mind and heart and body.

You also can be sure that she has adapted to her daily routine all that science has to offer in skin and hair care, and has been aware of tricks in makeup, hair-styling and clothes.

It is amazing how many attractive middle-aged and older women we see everywhere today. It can't be because more women are born beautiful. It is because we know so much more today about the importance of nutrition and exercise and reducing, about skin and hair care and make-up.

It is also due to the fact that the standards of beauty are saner than ever before. Today attractiveness is within the reach of every woman who is willing to make the effort.

Today beauty is not dependent on perfect features or naturally curly hair. It relies on good body tone, good grooming, a clear complexion and healthy hair, on graceful posture, on the correct weight and measurements, and even more upon good health, alliveness, verve, warmth, an eager spirit, an alive mind, a love of people and of life.

These are the things I want you to keep in mind as you stick tenaciously to the eight-week self-improvement marathon you have started.

If you have not yet joined the marathon figure improvement and personality growth, do so now. You may obtain the marathon booklet by sending 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Mrs. Carlyle Heads Church Auxiliary

In a ceremony conducted by Rev. T. Haythorne, officers for the coming year were installed at annual meeting of the Fairfield Woman's Auxiliary. Those chosen to lead the association are: Mrs. H. Carlyle, president; Mrs. R. Dorman, first vice-president; Mrs. C. B. Lowe, second; Mrs. J. Houston, third; Miss M. Staines, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Hill, corresponding; Mrs. S. Edey, treasurer; Mrs. E. McCracken, press; Mrs. W. G. H. Firth, pianist. Mrs. H. Carlyle is immediate past president and Mrs. A. Schroeder, honorary president. Annual reports were presented and it was decided to form four new groups for 1956. Plans were also made for a pot-luck supper on Jan. 25, the date of the annual congregational meeting.

AS WE LIVE

Plan Ahead for Holiday To Avoid Being Alone

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

There is a tendency toward self-pity when a person sees others enjoying things she formerly enjoyed.

Hurlock

(Q)—"Well, Christmas has come and gone, and what a Christmas it was for me. I have been a widow for two years. Last June my only son married and is now in the service. For the first time in my life, I had to spend Christmas all alone as my son is in a camp too far away for me to be with him. His wife was with him so that made a happy time for him. His wife is an only child, too, and her parents were alone, but there are two of them and a large family. I have no relatives nearby. This whole experience made me realize what widowhood really means."—Mrs. J. W.

(A)—Of course widowhood is not a happy state, but you are making it far worse than it should be. Remember there are thousands and thousands of men and women in the same boat as you and they must also face this situation.

Because you are alone, you must learn to plan ahead for holidays just as you did when you had your family with you. But, your planning now must be of a different type.

Knowing you will be alone unless you plan otherwise, you should invite someone to celebrate the holidays with you. Don't you know some widows and widowers who are alone just as you are and who would enjoy spending the day with you?

Then there are the members of your daughter-in-law's family. It was thoughtless of them not to include you in any family party they had, but perhaps they did not realize you would be all alone.

In the future, why not invite them several months ahead of time to celebrate a major holiday with you? If it is their custom to spend the day with the members of their family, they might ask you to be with them instead. Something can be done to make the holidays less lonely if you will plan accordingly.

Feminine Influence Increases In British Horse Racing Scene

LONDON (AP)—Women owners and breeders are making men take a back seat in British horse racing—turning it into the sport of queens, instead of kings.

Lady Zia Wernher is the champion owner and breeder for the 1955 season. Miss Dorothy Paget and Mme. Suzy Volterra of France finished among the top eight owners and breeders.

Fifty years ago a woman would not have dared to race horses on British tracks in her own name. The few who defied convention by owning racehorses ran them under pseudonyms.

The Duchess of Montrose, for example, was "Mr. Manton" on the turf and actress Lily Langtry raced as "Mr. Jersey."

Now women take as big a part in racing as men. And apparently know just as much about it. Queen Elizabeth is a keen and knowledgeable racing fan. She was champion owner last year.

But even the enthusiastic interest of the royal owner has not removed the last of the turpitudes against women.

The Jockey Club, ruling body of flat racing in Britain, refuses to issue a licence to a woman trainer. The women easily get around that one. They manage the training stables and a male assistant holds the official licence.

The most prominent "woman trainer" is Mrs. Johnson Houghton whose assistant, Charles Jerdein, finished eighth in the

SURVIVED ISLAND CRASH

Two Mercy Missions Flown in One Day

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP) — Mrs. Dickie was transferred from here to a Vancouver hospital following X-rays. Lauren flew his plane to intercept a herring seiner off Granite Bay, northwest of Quadra Island where he picked up George Mearns, 25, of Squirrel Cove, B.C., whose arm was caught in a winch roller. Means was reported in good condition in hospital here later.

AROUND AND ABOUT

With Jo Healy

AN OPEN LETTER to all young new mothers of new daughters:

Perhaps, by now, you've brought her triumphantly home, dressed in her first little woolly set, pink ribbons askew under the tiny, wobbling chin; bonnet draping with a rakish air over one drowsy eye, snuggled to a downy head too small as yet for fashionable capping.

Or it might be that you are holding her, for the first time alone, in the peace of a hospital bed, feeling that pure instant of recognition that she is many beautiful things, but primarily, in this moment, your own.

Whatever the occasion, your heart will be full with love, with protection, and with dreams of the future of this little morsel whose wellbeing is placed for safety in your capable hands. And with this grave responsibility bestowed on you, dream, but dream lovely and without grandeur; humbly, but surely, in your knowledge that the simple things of life and living comprise the basic whole.

The initial years will be those of routine: The nursing with its bond of love; the laying of the groundwork for good sleeping, eating and habits of cleanliness. The dawning delights of feed myself, walk alone, the forming of the first, stumbling sentence-structure.

Then the formative period when you realize that your infant has become a person with a definite mind and will of her own; with a personality, comprised of many factors of heredity and environment, and yet with its own inherent individuality. Firmly her own, and yet malleable still; and so you begin your teaching.

Teach her first, that she must learn to live with herself before others. That she must like and trust herself, for the essential goodness and honesty in her, before she finds that equality with others that in turn commands their liking and respect.

Teach her to be forthright in her femininity, while firm in independence—give her self-reliance. Teach her to forebear from judging people and situations from hearsay evidence, and when first-hand knowledge becomes hers, to judge only with great tolerance, remembering that, while her own opinion may be sound, so is that of others in their own right.

Guide her in the truth that the human race in which she has taken her rightful place, is not infallible; that greatness and weakness walk hand-in-hand. And while the greatness is worthy of applause and a warming of the heart, the endearing errors of humanity belong to her, too.

Teach her to avoid self-pity when she errs (as will sometimes be), to make no excuses but to face squarely her own shortcomings, and seek improvement of self. Teach her gentleness and sympathy, with a dignity not to be imposed upon. Give her humor.

And when she finds the weight of all these gifts too heavy, when she fails a little, be warm in understanding of her follies, and ask her understanding of your own.

SPOTTED WRECK

Veteran pilot, Jack Moul spotted overturned wreckage of Cessna at 10:02 am Wednesday off shore of Island. Craft had covered about two-thirds of distance between Tofino and Gold River on Vancouver Island's west coast. Spotting was from PWA Norseman, which flew from Port Alberni.

Fishing Ban Along Island Held Likely

SEATTLE (BUP) — A complete closure to fishermen of the high seas and treaty waters along the west coast of Vancouver island until Aug. 6 is likely.

Chairman of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, Robert J. Schoettler, said this is one of the controls to be proposed when the commission holds its annual meeting in Seattle Jan. 21. The meeting will approve 1956 sockeye regulations.

Closure of the waters would apply to both Canadian and United States fishermen, he said.

RIFLE CLUB SECRETARY KEEN SHOT

NANAIMO (CP)—The Nanaimo Rifle Club covered itself with glory in 1955 because of the keen eye of secretary Bob Emerson, who became the first club member to win the bronze medal for match rifle shooting. He also won the silver medal, the silver and gold medal and the gold medal.

Pioneer Cowichan Resident, Gustav Schultz, 67, Dies

CHEMAINUS — Funeral services for the late Gustav Schultz will be held in Duncan Saturday afternoon.

A pioneer resident of the Cowichan district, he passed away at the Chemainus General Hospital.

Born in Berne, Switzerland, in 1889, he came to Canada at the age of 15, and worked in Alaska and the Arctic regions. For 40 years he was a locomotive engineer, working in the Kootenays and on the Island at Hillcrest, Mayo and until a few years ago, with MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd.

Two years ago, he and a partner renovated the Crofton Hotel.

The late Mr. Schultz was a member of the Canadian Legion, Branch 191, and of the Rotary Club.

He is survived by his wife, Alice; two daughters, Mrs. R. Beach and Mrs. L. Martin, Victoria; five grandsons and two sisters.

Pearkes Asks Helicopters For Coast

Helicopter protection for B.C. coast shipping was asked in parliament Thursday by Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., member for Esquimalt-Saanich.

General Pearkes, who has long advocated a Canadian coast guard, pointed out that the U.S. coast guard had been called upon to supply helicopters for rescues along this coast.

R. O. Campney, minister of national defence, said the request would be taken under consideration but added that provision of a helicopter was "not as simple as a question and an answer."

New Demands For Limiting Hutterites

OAKVILLE, Man. (CP)—Demands for some government control over expansion of Hutterite colonies in Manitoba have again surged to the fore in south-central communities behind an expressed fear that Hutterites are building "a Communist country within a country."

A group of about 175 citizens in this community, 33 miles west of Winnipeg, has demanded legislation by the provincial government to limit Hutterite colonies. They said the issue was the "most important and far-reaching" one facing Manitobans today and would determine if democracy was to survive in the province.

Supplementary Quota For Rye Producers

WINNIPEG (CP)—A supplementary rye quota of three bushels an acre for all rye producers has been announced by the Canadian wheat board. A minimum of 100 bushels has been set under the quota.

ANCIENT SITE — The town of Baghdad, now the modern capital of Iraq, was built in the eighth century on the site of older settlements.

'More Hollering' By Game Clubs Urged By Barsby

CHEMAINUS — An appeal to B.C. game clubs to make their hunting and fishing problems known to the public was made by Ted Barsby, of Nanaimo, president of the Vancouver Island Fish and Game Association, at the regular meeting of the local Rod and Gun Club.

Island game clubs were leading the way on the problem of road access, he said. The Port Alberni club had started the fight to have more access roads opened to hunter, and the Parksville, Nanaimo and Chemainus clubs had entered the battle.

"The game department should be doing this work, not the game clubs," Mr. Barsby said. He asked the Chemainus club to "make your problems known to the public."

"Contact your MLA, and let him know about your problems. The trouble with us is we don't do enough hollering. It's the squeaky wheel that gets the grease," he said.

OUR MONEY — The game department's budget was cut again last year, the affiliated president said. "The game department is using funds set aside at the insistence of the Sportsmen's Council for conservation purposes, to supplement its regular budget and program. Yet our government tells us its cutting costs. Sure they're cutting costs. They're using our money to do it."

The game clubs in B.C. had to get out and sell themselves "to the boys in Victoria. We've got to convince them that hunting and fishing is a big industry in our province."

PIPES FROZEN 10 FEET DOWN

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—A little cold goes a long way. 50 residents of this northern British Columbia city have discovered. City Engineer George Harford in a report to city council said 50 homes have been left without water when plumbing froze 10 feet underground. However, things are warming up. Low temperature overnight Wednesday was 12 degrees above zero.

Home Sought For Unwanted Youngsters

VANCOUVER (CP)—Government support for a home for "predelinquent" children—children lacking in care, affection and proper supervision—has been requested by the three West Kootenay regional juvenile committees. The request has been made in an open letter to the attorney-general and all members of the provincial cabinet in a letter from Canon W. J. Silverwood of the Church of the Redeemer, Nelson, and chairman of the Nelson juvenile committee. Canon Silverwood's letter suggests that unwanted children, step-children and those from broken homes should not be left in undesirable circumstances. He said these children are not material for an industrial school.

Canadian Champ Tops Starters

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian Champ, an outstanding performer as a two-year-old last year, is a 2½ to 1 favorite in the winter book on this year's running of the $200,000-added Queen's Plate. Canadian Champ, owned by Bill Beasley of Toronto, is listed at 2½ to 1 to win, even money to place and 1 to 2 to show, over the field of 89 other three-year-olds still eligible to start in the classic. The race is scheduled June 16 for the first time at the new $120,000 Woodbine track in suburban Malton. Bunty's Flight, owned by Larkin Maloney and Conn Smythe of Toronto, is second choice at 4 to 1. Gracefield is third favorite.

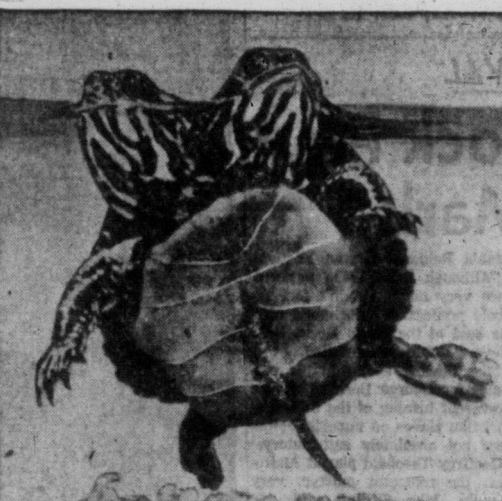

Grey Cup Game Rich Grid Plum

TORONTO (CP)—Last November's Grey Cup final at Vancouver produced an all-time high gross gate of $284,682 and a net of $216,000. Harry McBrien, Canadian Rugby Union secretary, announced today. Attendance was 39,417, the largest in Canadian football. Gross revenue from sale of tickets was $226,326 and the British Columbia tax of $29,182, pared this to $197,142. Miscellaneous revenue produced $87,500, made up of $35,000 from television, $20,000 from radio, $10,000 from film rights and $22,500 from program rights. Expenses totalled $68,419. The net revenue was split among the CRU, the Big Four and Western Interprovincial Football Union, each league getting an all-time high of $108,131 and the CRU $35,000.

HEADACHE When you are in pain, get fast relief with Parol. Its modern formula contains the most potent pain relievers, relieves even the most stubborn pains quickly and effectively. Comfort comes quickly. You feel alert yet relaxed.

DR. CHASE'S PAROL

QUARRELS WITH HIMSELF

Meet 'Ditto' the two-headed turtle at Boston's Museum of Science. Because its heads act independently they fight each other for food. Ditto has a hard time moving, too, because his left legs are directed by his left brain and his right legs obey his right brain. The heads seldom co-operate and if he moves forward it's strictly by accident.

CITY COUNCIL BRIEFS

Speed-Up in Sales Of City Owned Lots

A speed-up in sales of city-owned lots, promised earlier by Mayor P. B. Scurrah, as a source of funds for financing the new Point Ellice Bridge, was noted at city council meeting Thursday. A total of 24 out of 33 building sites in a new Richardson Street subdivision were reported sold. The lots brought $32,000. In some cases the land sold for three times the assessed value. Ald. Robert Macmillan asked council finance committee to bring in a recommendation which would take aldermen off the civic payroll during periods of leave-of-absence. Council agreed. Ald. Macmillan leaves for a week here and across Canada Jan. 29 to Feb. 4. Council accepted an invitation to appear as guests at a Real Estate Board luncheon Wednesday at Empress Hotel. Mayor Scurrah will give a short talk.

Negligent Driver Fined $500, Jailed

A father of three children was jailed, fined and prohibited from driving when he appeared in Saanich court Thursday on a charge of driving in a criminally negligent manner and causing bodily harm to another man. Peter Sweeney, 255 Burnside West, was sentenced to a 14-day jail term, fined $500 and prohibited from driving for a two-year period. The charge arose from an accident Aug. 27 on Gorge Road in which 23-year-old Robert Russell, 30 Gorge West, was critically injured. Russell was struck by a car while standing in a driveway near his home, witnesses testified. In addressing court prior to sentence being imposed, defence counsel Ronald Grant said Sweeney would probably lose his job, seniority and pension rights, and has "suffered mental anguish," in addition to any penalty imposed in court. Mr. Grant said he also understands civil proceedings against Sweeney are pending. Sweeney is married, has three children, and has been employed as a plumber. Magistrate Henry C. Hall said that the section of the new Criminal Code, under which Sweeney was charged, orders a mandatory jail sentence. "It is a hardship, but there have been other hardships in this case," he said.

Tory Registers Landslide Win

RENFREW, Ont. (CP)—James A. Maloney Thursday night won a clear-cut victory for the Progressive Conservatives in an Ontario provincial by-election for Renfrew South riding, held previously by the late James Dempsey, controversial Independent Progressive Conservative. Mr. Maloney's victory by one of the heaviest majorities in the riding in some time, was conceded by Liberal Nathaniel E. Lindsay, his only opponent, about 2½ hours after the polls closed. With results in from 94 of the riding's 99 polls, Mr. Maloney had 8,000 votes and Mr. Lindsay 5,784. Standing in the 98-member Ontario House now is: Progressive Conservatives, 84; Liberals, 10; CCF, three, and Liberal-Labor, one.

'Merry Wives' Festival Choice

Canadian Actors Selected For Stratford Shakespeare Roles

TORONTO (CP) — William Shakespeare's "The Merry Wives of Windsor" has been selected to share the Canadian Stratford Shakespeare Festival's fourth season with "Henry V." it was announced Thursday.

Artistic director Michael Langham of Britain announced "Merry Wives" as the second production for the 1956 season and named Canadian actors to the chief roles in both plays.

Toronto-born Christopher Plummer, currently in the Broadway production of Jean Anouilh's "The Lark," will play the title role in "Henry V." announced earlier as the first of this summer's plays.

Douglas Campbell, British-born but a member of the festival company since it was formed, was selected to portray Falstaff, the comic "fat paunch" of "Merry Wives."

Mr. Langham, at a press conference, said the two Shakespearean works will alternate during a nine-week schedule from June 18 to Aug. 18.

SHOW GELINAS REVUE

Plans also were disclosed to stage a new revue by Canadian playwright Gratien Gelinas at a Stratford motion-picture theatre in conjunction with the festival.

Montreal's Le Theatre du Nouveau Monde is to appear alternately with the revue in selections from a repertory it took to Paris last summer.

Mr. Gelinas, better known to Canadian audiences as Fridolin, and members of the Montreal company also have been cast for roles in "Henry V." Mr. Langham said. There are several French-language parts in the play.

The Gelinas revue, due to open in Montreal in March, will be rewritten in the English language for the festival.

Pauline Jamieson of the Old Vic Theatre in London and Helen Burns, actress wife of director Langham, are to appear as the "Merry Wives" in the Shakespearean comedy.

A new department to this year's festival, Mr. Langham said, will be a motion-picture series. Films chosen from the last 50 years' production in Spain, France, Russia, Sweden, Italy, Great Britain, the United States and Canada would be shown.

NINA NOVAK

Classic Ballerina Title Bestowed On Ballet Star

The title of "classic ballerina" has been freely bestowed by critics on Nina Novak who performs at the Royal Theatre here Jan. 25-26 with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo.

Born in Warsaw, Poland, Novak had her early training in that city, entering the Warsaw Opera Ballet School as a small child and rising quickly to ballerina rank.

After unhappy experiences during the war she came to this continent and joined the Ballet Russe.

She has since become famous for her interpretations of the classic ballets as well as the bright "Gaité Parisienne," the "Capriccio Espagnole" and the fantastic "Unicorn" in the Coteau ballet, newly added to the company's repertoire.

Matches began to replace flint and steel for making a flame early in the 19th century.

Dr. Daniel, voted one of Britain's top TV personalities last year, was presiding over the quiz game "Animal, Vegetable, Mineral?"

The object is for three experts to identify and give the origin of archaeological specimens. Showing a sheaf of poisoned arrows—identified correctly by the experts—Dr. Daniel remarked in a cold voice: "There are a few million people I would like to kill—mostly viewers."

Just before signing off, Dr. Daniel said the next quiz show would be in two weeks time, but "whether I shall be here or not I don't know."

"That is a matter for discussion with the producer," The BBC said viewers swamped it with telephone calls.

LONDON (AP)—An erudite bow-tied archaeologist shocked British television viewers Thursday night by telling them he'd like to murder a few million of them.

A spokesman for the BBC hastily explained that the professor, Dr. Glyn Daniel, 41, of Cambridge University, had influenza and was feeling "pretty ill under the studio lights."

SEAT IN HOUSE BEATS LOCOMOTIVE CAB

BY TOM GOULD

Friday the 13th jinx didn't trouble Premier Bennett today as he and members of the Cabinet trooped gaily down a corridor in the Legislative Buildings to attend a pre-session party caucus.

"Friday the 13th doesn't bother us," said the premier. "Every day is a good day in British Columbia."

The government members room was bedlam this morning, as Socred MLAs shook hands, and slapped backs, welcoming each other back to the legislative grind.

CCF and Liberal MLAs are not expected to make an appearance until Monday.

The cabinet held a short meeting today, but broke up shortly after 10 a.m. to walk down the long hall to caucus.

Don Robinson, who won the Lillooet seat in the September 12 by-election, stood at the door, and shook hands with each cabinet minister in turn.

JUMBO BUDGET

As soon as the door closed, an attendant took up station outside. While inside, Premier Bennett was giving his back-benchers a look at the government's legislative program—one featuring the largest budget, and the largest road-building program in the history of B.C.

MUCH POLISHING

Workmen are putting the finishing touches to the chamber for next Tuesday's pomp and ceremony. A new system of microphones is being installed, with wires strung across the chamber in five banks.

Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross will read the Speech from the Throne to open the House.

The government feels its budget will highlight the session. But milk, Sunday sport, and natural resources legislation is expected to cause most of the fireworks.

Premier Bennett has strongly indicated there will be no tax cuts, and with the increasing prosperity of the province, the government will have more millions on hand for opening up the back corners of B.C.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O God, we lift up to thee today for thy blessings all good husbands and wives who are bound together by numerous ties of love stronger than laws of marriage. May each couple continue to find life's deepest satisfaction in unselfish service and devotion to each other and the members of their family. May their children rise up and call them blessed, and their neighbors and their nation put their trust in them; in Christ's name. Amen.

U.S. EARTH SATELLITE LAUNCHING IN FLORIDA

WASHINGTON (UP)—The navy and air force announced today that Patrick Air Force Base, Cocoa, Fla., will be the launching site for the United States first earth satellite.

The United States, now in a race with Russia to launch the first globe-circling satellite, hopes to get its "bird" into the outer space before Sept. 30, 1957.

Suspect Grilled In Ontario Death

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Free Press says Winnipeg detectives, acting on an anonymous tip to the newspaper, today took a man out of a downtown beer parlor for questioning into the death of five-year-old Susan Cadieux of London, Ont., who died from exposure after being assaulted.

The man was picked up after an informant told The Free Press a nervous Ontario man, answering the general description of the man being sought, was drinking alone in the parlor, the paper said. Police were informed immediately.

The newspaper says detectives spoke to the man briefly and then took him to central police station for closer questioning.

Susan was last seen alive Friday night by her two brothers while talking to a stranger. Her body was found Saturday in a lumber yard.

Brink's Gang Indicted By Grand Jury

BOSTON (AP)—A grand jury today speedily indicted a group of men named Thursday by the FBI as the gang that robbed the Brink's office of $1,218,111 six years ago.

Indictments were returned after Joseph (Specs) O'Keefe, 47, one of the alleged gunmen, told his story to the jury. He has been quoted by authorities as saying he "talked" because he didn't get his share of the loot.

Only other witnesses presented by district attorney Garrett Byrne were Brink's employees who were in the office the night of the crime—Jan. 17, 1950.

The FBI arrested six of the men Thursday. O'Keefe and another are already behind bars, two more are being sought and an 11th is dead.

Police present when O'Keefe was questioned quoted him as saying he was cheated out of his share of the "hegged" about it but never was able to collect it.

He was quoted in a newspaper story today as saying the job had been planned for a year and a half; that the gang had entered the plant night after night prior to the heidup when there was no one around but a watchman.

Wickham Steed, London Times Editor, Dies

WOTTON-BY-WOODSTOCK, England (CP)—Henry Wickham Steed, editor of The Times of London from 1919 to 1922, died today at his home. He was 84.

A confidant of princes, adviser of statesmen and a leader of public opinion, Steed served in Berlin, Rome and Vienna and was foreign editor of the newspaper during the First World War.

Even after he relinquished the editorship he continued to take part in public controversies. His writings showed a remarkable foresight into world affairs.

Steed resigned from The Times in 1922 after the death of Lord Northcliffe, its owner. From 1923 to 1930 he was proprietor and editor of the Review of Reviews. Between 1925 and 1938 he lectured on central European history at Kings College, London.

Seek Title Match

Reshevsky electrified the chess world when he played Botvinnik and won from him on top board in the match by scoring a win and three draws. On a visit to Russia last July he was acclaimed by Bulgarev and Khrushchev for his skill.

Since then, Reshevsky has renewed his challenge to Botvinnik for a world championship clash, but thus far has been refused. The Russians have invoked International Chess Federation rules, which stipulate that Reshevsky should work his way patiently up through the Interzonal and Candidates' tournaments.

Chess Master Coming Here To Play 40 City Men at Once

By PETER MATTHEWS
Sammy Reshevsky, North America's ranking chess master, will come to Victoria, Feb. 14, to play an exhibition match against local chess wizards, under the sponsorship of The Victoria Daily Times and the Victoria Chess Club.

Announcement was made today by Dr. Simon Marinker, president of Victoria Chess Club, following three-way negotiations between Mr. Reshevsky, the chess club and the newspaper.

The U.S. expert, who defeated world's chess champion Botvinnik of Russia last year, will play 40 local enthusiasts simultaneously.

Negotiations are under way today for a suitable site, which will enable the public to watch the marathon match.

"This will be a lifetime experience for local chess enthusiasts," Dr. Marinker said today. "Even those who don't know much about the game will enjoy seeing this brilliant little fellow galloping around, pitting his skill against 40 players at once."

The Times has agreed to underwrite the visit as a community service, and in line with the paper's policy of bringing such top-flight personalities as Sir Edmund Hillary and Flo Chadwick to this area.

The paper further recognizes that there is great interest in chess locally, and that Reshevsky's visit will provide an added stimulus to the game.

"We are hopeful that there will be numerous up-land visitors and participants," Dr. Marinker told The Times.

"There is a rising interest in the game among high school students and we anticipate an enthusiastic turnout of spectators to this group."

Don't Worry About the 'Wow'

By MONTE ROBERTS
The world's tallest totem will be ruler-straight when Mungo and David Martin have readied it for the intricate carving work.

Today, as the log from which the totem will be carved lies in the inner harbor there is a noticeable "wow"—to use the logger's term for a curve—in it.

But this will be straightened by careful use of jacks, rollers, and blocks. After the tree is moved into the Thunderbird Park carving shed by Heaney's Cartage Ltd., heavy jacks will be used to move it on to blocks, placed so the trees own weight will straighten it.

In its natural state in the forest, David Martin points out, the tree was absolutely straight. "Bringing it down from the woods tended to warp it a little," he says. "But this will be corrected as the tree lies on the blocks."

First step before carving will be to remove the bark and strip off the sapwood, down to the heartwood. During this process, the totem tree will have time to straighten out.

It will be lifted from the water at the south end of the Causeway, in front of the Empress Hotel, Saturday morning. The log will be moved to the Causeway from the Island Tug and Barge Wharf, commencing at 7.45 a.m., and the actual lift by Heaney's will start at 8.30 a.m.

Shareholders and prospective shareholders are invited to watch "operation big lift." It is hoped to have the log in position in the carving shed early Saturday afternoon.

Wheatmen Back Trade With Reds

CALGARY (CP)—The Alberta Federation of Agriculture will press for expansion of trade with Iron Curtain countries, a program of acreage reduction, establishment of a national food bank and a two-price system for wheat and coarse grains in an effort to deal with the problem of Canada's mountain agriculture surplus.

Resolutions urging these moves were adopted Thursday night at the federation's 15th annual meeting. Delegates almost unanimously called for establishment of a national food bank of at least 250,000,000 bushels of wheat which would be a strategic reserve set up by the federal government purchased from the Canadian Wheat Board.

Delegates also asked the federation to study the feasibility of presenting a plan to the federal government which would provide from the federal treasury an acreage reduction incentive bonus to encourage producers to transfer cereal grain acreage to soil building crops.

Under the program, announced last fall, the government guarantees bank loans up to $1,500 at 5 per cent interest on farm-stored grain.

Mr. St. Laurent should arrange for a prairie-by-election if he "really wants to find out what the people of western Canada think of the cavalier treatment," they are getting under the grain loan plan.

Under the program, announced last fall, the government guarantees bank loans up to $1,500 at 5 per cent interest on farm-stored grain.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the prime minister returned from a visit to Alberta and Saskatchewan last summer with the statement that there appeared to be few persons on the Prairies in need of assistance.

Mr. Diefenbaker suggested government-guaranteed bank loans to eastern Canada farmers for purchase of western feed grain might help relieve the shortage of storage space on the prairies.

That would help clear out the otherwise unsaleable grain now helping to glut western elevators and keep new crops on the farms.

He also urged action to make more boxcars available to move western grain. Storage space for 100,000,000 bushels was not being used because there were not enough boxcars to move the grain into it.

Other party leaders centred criticism on wheat policies Thursday as they opened fire in the Commons on the government's legislative program with two non-confidence motions.

Opposition Leader Drew presented a motion stating the cabinet is not entitled to the Commons' confidence "by reason of their indifference, inertia and lack of leadership in the face of serious national problems and their disregard of the rights of Parliament."

CCF Leader Coldwell added an amendment stating that one of the serious problems was the government's "failure" to provide cash advances on farm-stored grain equal to at least 75 per cent of the Canadian wheat board's initial payment for wheat, to alleviate "the serious financial crisis" facing western farmers and the Prairie economy.

Rev. E. G. Hansell acting Social Credit leader, said the situation on the Prairies may be summed up as "starvation in the midst of plenty." Farmers had plenty of food but no cash to share in Canada's general well-being because the government had not provided distribution of their surpluses.

Like Mr. Coldwell, Mr. Drew criticized the government's plan, begun last November, of guaranteeing bank loans on farm-stored grain and said cash advances should be made without delay.

He said the loans-guarantee plan was unsatisfactory.

Mr. Drew said there is enough empty space in western elevators to store 100,000,000 bushels of high-grade wheat. He urged a five-point program which included sale of low-grade wheat from elevators as feed grain in Ontario and Quebec to make more room for high-grade wheat now on farms.

Mr. Coldwell described the loans-guarantee plan as "inadequate, cumbersome and bound with red tape from beginning to end."

He said the government's attitude is "remote, cold and unsympathetic" in the face of a Prairie cash shortage which left farmers unable to meet immediate living expenses and farming costs.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, who followed Mr. Drew in the throne speech debate, said the government had considered the

OTTAWA (CP)—John Diefenbaker today challenged Prime Minister St. Laurent to arrange a by-election on the Prairies to learn western farmers' true feelings about government-guaranteed bank loans on farm-stored grain.

The Progressive Conservative member for Prince Albert, chief agriculture spokesman for his party, dared Mr. St. Laurent to appoint a western Liberal to the Senate and then call a by-election to fill the vacated Commons seat.

The 265-seat Commons now has no vacancies.

"There'll be an answer," he said.

He made the challenge in the Commons Throne speech debate while criticising the government's over-all agricultural policies as "a mess."

Mr. Diefenbaker said the prime minister returned from a visit to Alberta and Saskatchewan last summer with the statement that there appeared to be few persons on the Prairies in need of assistance.

Mr. St. Laurent should arrange for a prairie-by-election if he "really wants to find out what the people of western Canada think of the cavalier treatment," they are getting under the grain loan plan.

TCA Needs Competition—Diefenbaker

OTTAWA (CP)—It is time to discontinue Trans-Canada Air Lines' "monopoly" on coast-to-coast air transportation, John Diefenbaker said today.

Competition from other companies could do no harm to the government-owned airline now, the Progressive Conservative member for Prince Albert told the Commons. Competition would improve the service.

NO CROSSWORD WINNER

Times crossworders failed again this week to come up with a correct solution to the puzzle so the prize jumps to $150, which includes the regular $25 plus a $125 bonus for a subscriber-winner.

Biggest stickler was the very first definition: "A feminine designation (abbrev.)". The answers "she" and "sue" given by many crossworders were wrong. Correct answer is "Ste." Full explanation of the solution is on Page 26, along with the new $150 puzzle.

Prosecutor
Will Probe
'Fix' Claim

VANCOUVER (CP)—City prosecutor Stewart McMoran is investigating allegations that murder suspect Joseph Gordon needed $2,000 to "fix" a court decision the night Constable Gordon Sinclair was slain.

"The matter was placed in the hands of the prosecutor today and is being looked into by him," said a high police official, who declined to be identified. "The allegations do not concern members of the police department."

Mrs. Noreen Carey, wife of a man sought as a material witness in the shooting of the policeman Dec. 7, made the allegations Thursday at Gordon's preliminary hearing.

Mrs. Carey said that before driving to the spot where Constable Sinclair was shot, Gordon told her he had "to do something tonight. The fix is in."

Mrs. Carey testified Gordon said he would not have to come up on a $26,000 bank robbery charge if he had $2,000.

SEAT IN HOUSE BEATS LOCOMOTIVE CAB

Trading his seat in the cab of a PGE locomotive for a more comfortable one in the Legislature for coming session is Don Robinson, elected in September Lillooet by-election. He is shown being greeted by other Socred members at

Sacred Caucus Readies
For Tuesday Opening

BY TOM GOULD
Friday the 13th jinx didn't trouble Premier Bennett today as he and members of the Cabinet trooped gaily down a corridor, in the Legislature Buildings to attend a pre-session party caucus.

"Friday the 13th doesn't bother us," said the premier. "Every day is a good day in the government."

The government members room was bedlam this morning, as Sacred MLAs shook hands, and slapped backs, welcoming each other back to the legislative grind.

CCF and Liberal MLAs are not expected to make an appearance until Monday.

The cabinet held a short meeting today, but broke up shortly after 10 a.m. to walk down the long hall to caucus.

Don Robinson, who won the Lillooet seat in the September 12 by-election, stood at the door, and shook hands with each cabinet minister in turn.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE 'WOW'

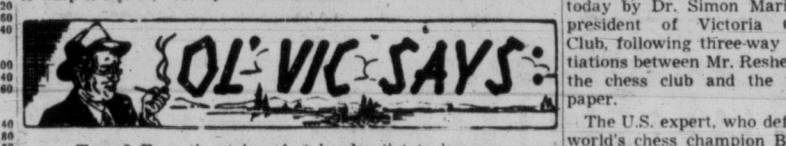

You're Invited to See
Totem 'Lift' Saturday

By MONTE ROBERTS
The world's tallest totem will be ruler-straight when Mungo and David Martin have ready it for the intricate carving work.

Today, as the log from which the totem will be carved lies in the inner harbor there is a noticeable "wow"—to use the logger's term for a curve—in it.

But it will be straightened by careful use of jacks, rollers, and blocks. After the tree is moved into the Thunderbird Park, carved by Heaney's Cartage Ltd., heavy jacks will be used to move it on to blocks, placed so the trees own weight will straighten it.

In its natural state in the forest, David Martin points out, the tree was absolutely straight. "Bringing it down from the woods tended to warp it a little," he says. "But afternoon.

Trees? Easy 't' cut 'em, but harder 't' tote 'em.

Funny, 'Y' hear about wheat, butter, cotton an' so on. But 'y' never hear of a likker surplus.

M' Uncle Zeke sez he'd like 't' play catcher on th' chess team, so's he c'd wear a chess protector.

Diefenbaker Dares
St. Laurent to Call
Prairie By-Election

OTTAWA (CP)—John Diefenbaker today challenged Prime Minister St. Laurent to arrange a by-election on the Prairies to learn western farmers' true feelings about government-guaranteed bank loans on farm-stored grain.

The Progressive Conservative member for Prince Albert, chief agriculture spokesman for his party, dared Mr. St. Laurent to appoint a western Liberal to the Senate and then call a by-election to fill the vacant Commons seat.

The 265-seat Commons now has no vacancies.

"There'll be an answer," he said.

He made the challenge in the Commons Throne speech debate while criticising the government's over-all agricultural policies as "a mess."

Mr. Diefenbaker said the prime minister returned from a visit to Alberta and Saskatchewan last summer with the statement that there appeared to be few persons on the Prairies in need of assistance.

Mr. St. Laurent should arrange for a prairie by-election if he "really wants to find out what the people of western Canada think of the cavalier treatment" they are getting under the grain loan plan.

Under the program, announced last fall, the government guarantees bank loans up to $1,500 at 5 per cent interest on stored grain.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the government apparently is bound on grain policies by whatever stand is taken by Trade Minister Howe, the cabinet minister responsible for grain marketing.

"The only hope of the government changing its grain policy is for the minister of trade and commerce to go on another fishing trip," he said.

The government is asking farmers to pay interest on their earnings under the loan plan.

"The loan system is a sham and a delusion."

Mr. Diefenbaker suggested government-guaranteed bank loans to eastern Canada farmers for purchase of western feed grain might help relieve the shortage of storage space on the prairies.

That would help clear out the otherwise unsaleable grain now helping to glut western elevators and keep new crops on the farms.

He also urged action to make more boxcars available to move western grain. Storage space for 100,000,000 bushels was not being used because there were not enough boxcars to move the grain into it.

All Parties Join in Attack

Opposition party leaders centred criticism on wheat policies Thursday as they opened fire in the Commons on the government's legislative program with two non-confidence motions.

Opposition Leader Drew presented a motion stating the cabinet is not entitled to the Commons' confidence "by reason of their indifference, inertia and lack of leadership in the face of serious national problems and their disregard of the rights of Parliament."

CCF Leader Coldwell added an amendment stating that one of the serious problems was the government's "failure" to provide cash advances on farm-stored grain equal to at least 75 per cent of the Canadian wheat board's initial payment for wheat, to alleviate "the serious financial crisis" facing western farmers and the Prairie economy.

Rev. E. G. Hansell acting Social Credit leader, said the situation on the Prairies may be summed up as "starvation in the midst of plenty." Farmers had plenty of food but no cash to share in Canada's general well-being because the government was not doing its job.

Release Suspect
In Ontario Death

WINNIPEG (CP)—City detectives said today that a man, picked up in a downtown beer parlor for questioning into the death of a five-year-old London, Ont., girl, yard.

Further check had shown that the man, a bushworker, had not been near London at the time of the death of five-year-old Susan Cadieux, who died from exposure after being assaulted.

The bushworker had been picked up following an anonymous tip to a Winnipeg newspaper that he answered the general description of a man being sought in the London case.

Marcel still is in custody, on a charge of loitering.

MONTREAL (BUP)—A 27-year-old Montrealer described by police as a crackpot today confessed and then denied that he was responsible for the death of five-year-old Susan Cadieux, whose ravished body was found frozen at London, Ont., on Saturday.

Marcel still is in custody, on a charge of loitering.

Chess Master Coming Here
To Play 40 City Men at Once

By PETER MATTHEWS
Sammy Reshevsky, North America's ranking chess master, will come to Victoria, Feb. 14, to play an exhibition match against local chess wizards, under the sponsorship of The Victoria Daily Times and the Victoria Chess Club.

Announcement was made today by Dr. Simon Marinker, president of Victoria Chess Club, following three-way negotiations between Mr. Reshevsky, the chess club and the news-paper.

The U.S. expert, who defeated world's chess champion Botvinnik of Russia last year, will play 40 local enthusiasts simultaneously.

Negotiations are under way today for a suitable site, which will enable the public to watch the marathon match.

"This will be a lifetime experience for local chess enthusiasts," Dr. Marinker said today.

"Even those who don't know much about the game will enjoy seeing this brilliant little fellow galloping around, pitting his skill against 40 players at once."

COMMUNITY SERVICE

The Times has agreed to underwrite the visit as a community service, and in line with the paper's policy of bringing such top-flight personalities as Sir Edmund Hillary and Pio Chadwick to this area.

The paper further recognizes that there is great interest in chess locally, and that Reshevsky's visit will provide an added stimulus to the game.

"We are hopeful that there will be numerous up-land visitors and participants, Dr. Marinker told The Times.

There is a rising interest in the game among high school students and we anticipate an enthusiastic turnout of spectators from this group."

SEEKS TITLE MATCH

Reshevsky electrified the chess world when he played Botvinnik and won from him on top board in the match by scoring a win and three draws. On a visit to Russia last July he was acclaimed by Bulganin and Khrushchev for his skill.

Since then, Reshevsky has renewed his challenge to Botvinnik for a world championship clash, but thus far has been refused. The Russians have invoked International Chess Federation rules, which stipulate that Reshevsky should work his way patiently up through the Interzonal and Candidates tournaments.
